Opening 1 / 4

Hi, everyone. I'm Gareth, Milo's big brother. I'm five years older, which means that for most of his childhood, Milo wore my clothes. My jackets, my sneakers, and a sweater with a moose on it that I would like to apologize for, in front of all of you.

Part 2 2 / 4

Everything I outgrew, he got. I used to think that was unfair to him. Now I think he got the better end of the deal, because he took everything I handed down and wore it better than I ever did.

Part 3 3 / 4

Today he is wearing a suit that is all his own, next to someone who chose him, and for once I have nothing to hand him. Annika, he will give you his last fries and his warmest coat without being asked. He learned that young, in a moose sweater.

Closing 4 / 4

Everyone, raise a glass to Milo and Annika. Cheers.
