Opening 1 / 4

Hi, everyone, and welcome. I'm Henry, Zoe's father. I'll keep this short, because Zoe and Casey have a party to get to, and the food is getting cold. It's a joy to see so many faces I love in one room.

Part 2 2 / 4

When Zoe was small, she used to line up her stuffed animals and give each one a turn to speak. Nobody was left out, ever. She would say, your turn now. She's still doing it. She makes room for everyone at her table, and she listens to what they say.

Part 3 3 / 4

Casey, you listen too. You make her laugh, and she makes you laugh, and that's plain to see. That's why I know you two will be fine. Thank you for being good to my girl. You're family now, and the door is always open.

Closing 4 / 4

Zoe, I'm proud of you every day, and I'll always be a phone call away. Be kind to each other, and be patient. Congratulations, you two. Please raise a glass to Zoe and Casey.
